CONGRATULATIONS!

GOOD afternoon everyone, and a very warm welcome to you all to Huish Park today for the first home game of our busy Christmas period.

We were delighted that we were able to execute our game plan against Doncaster Rovers who are a fine footballing side.

I felt there was a purpose about us and we had done our homework sufficiently so that we could cause an upset and that is exactly what we did.

They were in a good run of form, so it was credit to the boys for pulling that one off.

We welcome today our local rivals from Swindon who have settled into life in League 1, despite it having been a turbulent season for them off the field.

'We want to continue our recent good home form'

It is going to be another hard game, but we want to continue our recent good home form, to give us the opportunity to push into the top six places, which has always been our target.

I hope you all continue to enjoy the festive season and that you will once again get behind the boys, to help us gain three more valuable points.

Have a safe journey home everyone.

Western Gazette

Money is the root of all evil?

By KIERAN HOWARD -
The Western Gazette

THE situation of clubs being placed into administration is fast becoming the norm in English football just now.

Already Leeds United and Luton Town have been deducted points this season as a result of incurring huge debts.

There are sure to be more who suffer the same fate, if not this then certainly next season.

The problem is not going away and indeed it appears to be worsening - so much so that I wonder if it would be better if every Football League club began the season on minus-ten points.

Then, if they could prove during the campaign they were sound financially, they could reclaim the deducted points.

It may be a tongue-in-cheek suggestion but it does highlight the seriousness of the problem and the pitfalls that await clubs who overspend or do not run a tight ship.

And the people who suffer the most are the fans. They are the ones pumping money into clubs through the purchasing of tickets and merchandise and are showing their loyalty.

Yet they then have to sit back and question where their money has gone and what has happened to the transfer fees received from the sale of players.

Clubs going into administration is becoming a regular occurrence in English football, so how do we deal with this ever growing problem?

THE REAL VICTIMS?
Loyal fans are suffering as a result of administration

It is not easy being a passionate follower of a football club when you have so many queries, which are usually unanswered, about what is going on.

Of course the other side to the administration matter is that teams will now be looking over their shoulder more than ever.

If, for instance, you are on 30 points after your first 20 games you may be pondering a charge towards the play-off places.

However, if money has been handled rather carelessly and administration is a very real threat, a points penalty could see your team thrown into a relegation-battle.

Rotherham United last season showed just what a hard task it is to get yourselves out of the danger-zone and they knew from the start what they had to do.

It is not just about the penalty imposed but more about the knock-on effect for a club.

The morale must dip in the immediate aftermath and the turmoil of having to sell players to recoup lost money does not help matters.

It is hard to know what can be done to halt the decline of these high-profile and less-glamorous sides.

What is sure though is that some restrictions need to be enforced to improve the health of the English game.

Hungary success

By CHRIS SPITTLES

ZOLTAN Stieber has illuminated Yeovil Town's performances with a string of mesmeric displays on the left wing since arriving on loan at Huish Park from Aston Villa.

The Hungarian could well be labelled the 'baby-faced assassin' as his deadly deliveries into the box belie his youthful looks.

Stieber is only 19 but has made a major impact and added much-needed balance to the Glovers midfield.

His quality was not really in doubt as he signed for Villa after extended trials at their Premier League rivals Manchester United and Arsenal.

The way in which he has coped with the physical demands of League One football is admirable given his slender frame, but not surprising given his meteoric rise so far.

"I started out at Ujpest, which is one of the best clubs in Hungary, but it was always an ambition of mine to come to England," said Stieber.

"I had trials at United and Arsenal and it was a real shock to train at those clubs with all the famous players.

"I was only 16 and was away from home for the first time. I'd only seen players like that on television before that.

"Suddenly I was alongside people like Thierry Henry every day. It was a dream to be involved at such big clubs.

"In the end I signed for Villa, who are another big club. I know they once won the European Cup!

"I was really happy when I joined them and I've enjoyed myself so far. It's a good place to learn more about the game."

Stieber has been sent on loan to Yeovil to develop further, having captained Villa's reserves this season.

And he is delighted to be involved with the Glovers as they try to emulate last season's success and reach the play-offs.

"I had a very good pre-season with Villa and went with them on their tour of America," said Stieber.

"I played in the first game against Toronto in front of about 20,000 people which was the biggest crowd I've ever played in front of.

"Since then I've been playing for the reserves and I think that's where Russell Slade saw me play. When I found out Yeovil wanted me I was keen to come here.

"I try to play to my strengths and I like to think that I can put in good crosses and take good free-kicks to set up goals.

"When I was in Hungary I always used to stay behind with my mates to practise free-kicks and corners and I hope it shows!

"I've been happy with my performances so far, I've helped Yeovil pick up some wins and set up some goals.

Slade was alerted to Stieber when he was made captain of Villa's second string – although the youngster admits he is not a natural skipper.

"Captains are usually loud and have a lot to say on the pitch," he added. "But I am quite quiet.

"I'm not a captain who shouts and screams, I just try to lead by example. I hope that by playing well I can inspire the team."

Stieber's arrival at Huish Park allowed the Glovers to switch to a 4-4-2 formation, with the young Hungarian playing wide on the left.

He said: "My left foot is definitely my stronger foot so I prefer playing on that side.

"When I played at youth level in Hungary I used to play in the middle of midfield, but at the moment I'm not strong enough to do that in English football."

Stieber will undoubtedly get stronger as he develops physically and has his eye on breaking into Villa's first team.

But he will soon have some family competition for a place in the side at Villa Park – from his 16-year-old brother Andras.

"Andras is training with Villa," explained Zoltan. "He hasn't signed yet but will do that in July when he is old enough."

PAST GLOVERS: Andy, back row, fourth from left, poses with his fellow team mates from 1983/84

Saved by the Bell

AT the start of the 1980-81 season, manager Barry Lloyd went about strengthening his side which included signing forward Andy Bell.

Andy was one of those great strikers who could score with either foot and when in the penalty box was a real poacher.

He started playing his football for Haselbury Plucknett scoring numerous goals for them.

This caught the attention of Exeter City, but things didn't work out with them and he was released.

He was having talks with Dover Athletic when Barry Lloyd approached him.

"I had always wanted to play for my local team so I had no hesitation in signing for Yeovil."

Andy went on to make 151 first team appearances for Town. He was top scorer in the 1982/83 season with 27 goals and notched up a grand total of 46, when towards the end of 1984, then manager Trevor Finnigan, sold him to Weymouth.

Known for having a happy knack of being in the right place at the right time this week we feature one of Yeovil's great strikers ANDY BELL

Andy's football took him on to Bath City, Paulton Rovers and then Bideford before moving to Chard Town.

He jokes: "I must have been reaching about 60 by then so I thought I better call it a day!"

Looking back over his Yeovil Town career Andy recalls that FA Cup games were always special to him.

"I also remember playing Barnet at home in the league when Barry Fry was their manager.

"I scored a few and he'd say to me afterwards, 'it wasn't you that was causing us all the problems, it was that Malcolm Beck in the middle' - even though I'd just scored a hat-trick against him!"

After Andy's playing career finished, he took his coaching badges, helping out at Millfield School and semi-professional clubs like Chard Town.

He now concentrates on running his own courier business.

Andy is a season ticket holder at Huish Park, and has thoroughly enjoyed watching the club's rise up through the Leagues and is now looking forward to even more success, which he's sure will come.

SUPPORTING the Glovers is not down to age, it is not down to sex and it is not down to race.

I have also found it is no longer down to location. Once the bug of YTFC enters your soul it is much like marriage.

The test of any relationship is distance and I can tell you that it is no easier to be away from my beloved Green and Whites than it would be to be on the other side of the world from my partner.

But the modern world generally makes football accessible and due to Yeovil's ever improving reputation easier to follow!

The country you live in moulds the way you view the world, the press of the nation practically tells you what they want you to believe and that is no different in Taiwan as it is in England.

Football as a sport in Taiwan realistically does not exist. Out of a nation of 23 million people there are only two Taiwanese 'football teams' and I use this term very loosely.

Taiwan's football consists only of Westerners playing in a Nationwide 18 team Sunday League, where the standard is relatively poor.

I can safely say that as a nation the standard of football is dire to the extent any player of Taiwanese nationality would struggle to make it in Weymouth!

This Nationwide lack of football has its consequences. The press does not jump on the football bandwagon.

Newspapers do not print results and only issues stories if they are huge.

TV also keeps away from the addiction. It only showed 50% of the World Cup and I have seen Chelsea versus Manchester United on pay per view.

Absence makes the heart grow fonder

Exile JONATHAN PERRY tells his story of how he keeps track of the Glovers all the way over in Taiwan

I LOVE YOU YEOVIL: Jonathan can keep track of his beloved Glovers thanks to the wonders of modern technology

Pubs show games from dodgy download sites and that is it.

So how from this does one support a team in League 1? Easy answer the internet.

The internet provides me with up to date news from the BBC for general footy, Ciderspace for Yeovil, YTFC.net for videos and the Green Room for chat and Somerset Sound for the chance to listen to live matches.

I listen intently, scream shout and dance with goals and complain about referees and the opposition as I would if I were there in person and in that way my love stays afloat.

I rarely miss live games no matter what time they occur. 3pm games for me start at 10pm and mid-week fixtures involve an early wake up at 4am.

My yearly highlight is the chance to get back home to see the Town play.

I generally make two games a season, sadly this year it will be none.

After being away from England for three years my love for Yeovil has not diminished an ounce and will continue to grow everyday.

THE last few games have been pretty successful for us. Things have gone very well and our form has started to pick up just at the right time.

We have been hit with so many injuries but we have stuck together as a unit and it has been satisfying for those who have played that we have still managed to grind out some decent results.

It has been great that we have put in one or two good performances recently, and especially in front of the home supporters who have been treated to some good games.

Those wins have been very important, as losing can become a real problem if you get into a run of them.

Players like young James Walker have done well and come to the forefront. I think him and Stewart are playing really well together.

The manager has been so successful in bringing in the right players to deal with situations.

We have been able to turn things around after things weren't going so well.

The Gillingham game on the TV had been built up as a vitally important game for us.

We had all been looking forward to it, and sometimes a big game on the television can be the turning point and change the season for you.

We went out there with determination in what were difficult conditions and we played well.

'I really do like the Boxing Day fixture as it feels like a family affair here at Huish Park'

The pitch held up well and we were able to play some good football in patches.

It was also vital after the Millwall game to get back to winning ways and we managed that with a couple of good wins against AFC Bournemouth and Hartlepool.

The 3-1 victory against Hartlepool was especially pleasing as they started well and for us to come back from a goal down was really satisfying.

We haven't been able to do that too often for quite some time now, so that was pleasing for the players and the manager.

But then just as things were starting to go well, the squad was hit with flu and a stomach virus.

We all came in for training on the Wednesday and I found I was really struggling.

Marc Bircham was the first to go down with it earlier in the week, then Justin Cochrane and Scott Guyett had it as well.

Before the Doncaster game I really wasn't well enough to travel up with the team.

The Gaffer told me to stay behind and we would have a chat on the Saturday night to see how I was and then if I was ok, I could travel up on the Sunday for the game.

Fortunately Scott Guyett played extremely well through the whole game despite his illness and Justin Cochrane and Lloyd Owusu who were also still recovering were sat on the bench with myself.

The manager saw that I was looking pretty cold sat there, so perhaps he thought he had better bring me on for the last 20 minutes.

Unfortunately when they sent over a cross I managed to touch it into our own net, so it was a good thing that we were 2-0 up. But it all finished well in the end.

The lads will be training on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day and then we go straight into today's game against Swindon.

We don't have a problem with it as we make up for it with a good break in the summer.

All the players enjoy playing over the Christmas period as the supporters make it a special atmosphere.

I really do like the Boxing Day fixture as it feels like a family affair here at Huish Park.

It almost feels like a cup tie as the crowd generates a lovely atmosphere.

It is an important period for the club with all that we have achieved so far, and I know the support will be brilliant today.

When it comes to our Christmas, Anna has done all the shopping for our children, Aiden and Finlay.

I have been very busy resting and especially with my illness as well, I haven't had a lot of involvement with it all.

Have a great Festive period and thanks for all your support during the year.

By SCOTT POLLARD

THE Yeovil Town Supporters team extended their 100% record to ten games in their recent match against Dorchester.

Yeovil dominated throughout and it didn't take them long to start the scoring.

The first of many mistimed challenges resulted in a free kick some 30 yards out.

Ian Linney stepped up to plant the ball right on the head of Neil Holt to make it 1-0.

Next it was the turn of Charlie to get on the scoresheet, when he broke from midfield to squeeze past the Dorchester 'keeper.

Player-manager Dave Lilly decided he wanted a piece of the goal action as well.

Having sprung the Dorches-

Supporters team extend record

ter offside trap he went bearing down on goal, and although the 'keeper managed to keep out his first effort, the rebound was dispatched with ease.

It seemed Yeovil were in no mood to take the foot off the pedal, presumably as playing well took their minds off how cold it was!

John Mills scored to take his impressive tally for the season to 14. Again neat play between the Yeovil midfielders allowed 'Millsy' to be sent racing towards the Dorchester box, and he slid the ball low to the 'keeper's left.

The fifth goal was a story of persistence and audacity. Mick Pardoe cleared well from defence and Lilly outpaced the Dorchester defence to get to the ball before it reached the 'keeper.

The Dorchester Number 1 did well to block Lilly's shot, but the ball cannoned back out towards the right wing where Scott Pollard decided he would try and plant the ball back over the back-peddling 'keeper and this time it paid off.

This wrapped the game up at 5-0 to Yeovil, and Pollard once again borrowed Lloyd Owusu's 'raise the roof' celebration!

AMBASSADOR LEAGUE CUP
 PRELIMINARY ROUND

Yeovil Town 1
 Reading 2
 (after extra time)

By ROBIN EVANS

THE Yeovil Town ladies team narrowly missed out in their recent Ambassador League Cup game after an extra time strike saw them lose 2-1 to Reading.

The match took a while to get going and first half scoring opportunities were few and far between.

The best chances of the half fell to Reading, but they were unable to beat Glovers' keeper Jodie Rice who was in excellent form.

Yeovil centre backs Kim Turner and Rachel Edwards were also called upon to show their quality in several telling tackles.

Four minutes into the second period Reading took the lead.

Jenny Webb held off a challenge from Kim Turner just outside the penalty area on the left

Extra time heartache for Ladies flank, and used the wind to curl the ball just inside the right hand upright from 25 yards.

Both sides continued to battle against the conditions, and with just three minutes of normal time remaining Yeovil got their just reward.

A superb low cross from Kayleigh Nardiello on the left wing was side footed into the net by Jemma Tewkesbury which sent the game into extra time.

Yeovil began it well, and after just 15 seconds Alana Willson chipped over the bar.

There were further chances at both ends, but both defences were in fine form.

But a couple of minutes into the final quarter of an hour saw Reading get the all important goal.

The Yeovil defence were unusually sluggish to clear the ball, and Natasha Caswell took advantage by nipping in to chip the ball over Jodie Rice and into the net.

Yeovil tried hard to get back into the game again, but the visitors held on to go through to the quarter-finals.

Strong reserve side see off Cheltenham

CHELTENHAM 1
YEovil TOWN 3

YEOVIL Town Reserves convincingly won their recent outing against Cheltenham Reserves with goals from Ritchie Jones, Scott Spencer and Wilfried Domoraud.

There was more good news for manager Russell Slade as the match saw the return from injury for both Marvin Williams and Marc Bircham, who were both given run outs as the busy Christmas period approaches.

Slade sent out a strong side that included Ritchie Jones, Mark Lynch, Craig Alcock and Wilfried Domoraud.

Controlling the match from the start Yeovil nearly took the lead when Scott Spencer smacked a shot against the post in the first minute.

They eventually went in front in the 18th minute when Jones met Williams' cross from the right.

The goal stunned The Robins and having already lost Craig Reid to injury they struggled to make any impact on the game.

Former Yeovil favourite Jerry Gill nearly brought Cheltenham back into the match when he just failed to make contact with a Connolly cross but that was really the only chance The Robins managed to create.

Yeovil continued the second half as they had finished the first and within eight minutes Tom Clarke hit the cross bar with a vicious shot from 18 yards.

BACK IN ACTION:
Marvin Williams made his long awaited comeback from injury

Yeovil went further in front on 69 minutes when Bircham found Lynch out wide.

His cross was met on the turn by Spencer who smashed it past Scott Brown in the Cheltenham goal.

The Glovers' second string made it 3-0 on 75 minutes when Wilfried Domoraud out-paced Biggs to a long ball and smashed home the third.

With the points secured it was perhaps not that surprising that the Glovers eased off towards the end and allowed in Theo Lewis for a late consolation goal.

Ever heard of confidentiality!

By ROBIN EVANS

ALTHOUGH I enjoy writing this column my background is in accountancy rather than journalism.

For this reason the concept of "confidentiality" is second nature to me, as it is for doctors, solicitors, and members of many other professions.

I remember a partner in the first firm of accountants where I worked, in a small and rather insular town, emphasising the point with a tale about his wife.

She came home from shopping one day and told him that a store that she patronised regularly was closing down.

After pausing for thought she added, "But you probably knew that anyway".

He did, as he had been advising the owners for many years, and had handled the taxation aspects of their forthcoming business disposal for them.

Such matters would never be disclosed outside of the office - not even to the partners' spouse.

This fundamental concept of confidentiality being strictly observed is one of the main principles of many professions, but I have always believed that in some areas it extended beyond these boundaries and into common practice.

One area where I assumed that such principles remained was the job interview.

Jose Mourinho's recent public withdrawal from the vacant England manager's job exposed a real lack of confidentiality in the FA's selection process. Should these potential candidates show more respect for such a valued position?

OPINIONATED: Jose Mourinho had lots to say about the vacant position of England manager

If several people made the "short list" for a vacancy then my belief was that the identities of ultimately unsuccessful candidates would not be made known, or their qualities or deficiencies discussed elsewhere.

Similarly, if the person initially offered the job should choose to decline the offer for whatever reason then I would expect them not to publicise the facts.

This does not seem to apply to international football management.

It will probably never become clear whether the FA intended to offer the job of England manager to Jose Mourinho, or whether any discussions were of a very informal and exploratory nature.

However, following his very public "withdrawal" from the list of potential candidates seeking the position, he will now appear to have turned England down!

Had Mr Capello followed suit and publicly "withdrew" then whoever ultimately got the job would face the prospect of being commonly considered third or fourth choice before their team even kicks a ball!

This is not an entirely new situation as Steve McClaren took over after "Big Phil" Scolari had apparently been offered the position.

So why is it that the likes of Mourinho have to open their mouths when a dignified silence would surely be better for all concerned?

HAVING just made the journey to Leyton Orient the trip to Luton will seem very familiar as once again it's a journey up the A303 towards London.

After about 80 miles along the A303 you will then need to join the M3. Leave the M3 at junction 2 and join the M25 northbound.

Once on the M25 you will need to travel along until you reach junction 21 in order to join the M1 which is signed Luton Airport.

Leave the M1 at junction 10, and at the roundabout take the second exit onto the M1 spur.

At Kidney Wood roundabout take the second exit onto the A108 signed Luton Airport.

At the next roundabout take the first exit onto the A505 signed

Town Centre and the first exit at the following one.

At the Osborne Road roundabout take the second exit followed by the first exit at the Kimpton Road roundabout.

Then at the next one you will need the first exit signed Dunstable followed by a sequence of third exit, first exit and first exit again for the following three roundabouts.

The final exit should take you on to the A5065 and this will then lead you to the ground.

There are two places close to the ground where you can park at a cost of £3.

For food and drink there are a couple of places which are suitable for travelling fans.

There is the Bedfordshire Yeoman on Dalton Road, which also has a chippy nearby.

The other one is the Conservative Club on Leagrave Road.

You will be charged an entrance fee of 50p but the benefits are that the beer prices are a lot cheaper than anywhere else around.

Please note there is no alcohol available in the ground but all the usual food outlets are available.

Centre continues to show progress

By MO HOPKINS

THE encouraging progress of the Yeovil Town Centre of Excellence was evident in the club's recent round of fixtures against Plymouth Argyle.

The fixtures gave a real guide on how the players can cope against one of the best Centre of Excellences in the South.

With Yeovil's Centre in the initial stages of growth it was a big achievement that some creditable results were gained.

The Under 13's lost only to the odd goal, as did the Under 14's who were a few goalpost scrapes away from a result.

The Under 15's gained an impressive draw against a side who have become unaccustomed to being kept involved for such large periods of play.

The Under 12's and Under 11's unfortunately lost away from home, but the Under 9's and the Under 10's won with impressive displays which kept the crowd entertained on possibly the coldest day of the year to date.

With the teams generally falling into line it's now a period to reflect on the progress and organisation of the Centre to ensure the work achieved so far can be built on to reach higher levels.

FORMER Yeovil Town winger Nick Crittenden has joined the Yeovil Town Community Coaching team.

Crittenden, along with other former players Roy O'Brien, Tony Pounder, Paul Thorpe and Stuart Housley will be involved with the Soccer Skills Courses that the club are holding at schools in and around Yeovil.

Nick will be amongst the coaches on hand for the Christmas Soccer Skills Courses taking place at Huish Park on the 27th and 28th December, 30th and 31st December and 2nd and 3rd January.

For more details contact the club on 01935 847873.

11 - SOFIENE ZAABOUB

VERSATILE left-sided player at home in defence or midfield, Zaaboub was ex-manager Paul Sturrock's first signing as Town boss.

Having joined initially on a short-term contract, he has since signed a new deal to keep him at Swindon for another 18 months.

SWINDON Town's story off the pitch has somewhat detracted from its performances on it, with an extended take-over deal hitting the headlines.

The Wiltshire outfit are without a manager after the departure of Paul Sturrock to Plymouth Argyle.

Former chief executive Martyn Starnes also left the club earlier this month to join up with the Glovers for a second spell.

1 - PHIL SMITH

PHIL started the campaign in good form although was sidelined with a groin injury in late October and is currently recovering from a hernia repair operation.

POWERFUL defender Ifil joined Town in the summer of 2004 after enjoying three loan spells with them.

Jerel became a fan's favourite during his brief stays in Wiltshire and signed on a permanent basis in June 2004.

6 – ADY WILLIAMS

NAMED on-field Captain by former manager Dennis Wise in July 2006, Ady Williams brought a wealth of league and international experience to the club.

Tessem trains with Cherries

By STEVE SOWDEN -
Yeovil Express chief reporter

FORMER Southampton utility player Jo Tessem has started training with League 1 strugglers AFC BOURNE-MOUTH.

Tessem, who spent almost six years with Saints, is back on the South Coast after playing for Lyn Oslo in his native Norway.

He feels he is in good enough shape to play Championship football, but will spend a few days training with the Cherries.

"It's first of all a matter of keeping myself in shape," said Tessem. "Then, it's easier to continue with the football and not give up. I live in Southampton, 20 minutes from Bournemouth.

"I have just played a full season for Lyn and the body coped with it. Therefore, I feel the Championship is the right level for me."

HUDDERSFIELD TOWN boss Andy Ritchie has voiced his wish to keep Phil Jevons on a permanent basis.

Jevons joined the League 1 club on loan from Bristol City last month and has been finding the net.

After scoring one, and creating the other, in their recent 2-1 win over Bristol Rovers, Jevons underlined his striking qualities to Ritchie.

EYE ON THE BALL: Former Southampton player Jo Tessem is looking to get back into English football

And the Terriers manager confirmed he will be aiming to extend the forward's loan before trying to arrange a permanent deal.

Ritchie said: "Jevons is just the kind of striker we want. I have made it clear that I want to sign him permanently."

TRANMERE ROVERS, have extended the loan deal of Blackburn Rovers defender

Andy Taylor by another month.

The full-back has been a mainstay for Tranmere since moving to Prenton Park in November and has impressed Ronnie Moore.

The Rovers boss is delighted to have secured Taylor for a second month.

"I'm delighted we have been able to keep Andy at the club for another month," Moore told the club's official website.

"BOUND with victorious wreaths..." - William Shakespeare, 'Richard III.'

Football is about winning and I am pleased to report that we go into today's match on the back of consecutive victories at home.

Firstly, we emerged victorious from another derby fixture against Bournemouth.

Secondly, we defeated Hartlepool by a slightly bigger margin.

This was a most entertaining game in which I thought we played some of our best football of the season, scoring three good goals in the process.

Amongst many good performances in this match, I thought Marcus Stewart was again excellent and young Zoltan Stieber looked a constant threat.

Today we welcome Swindon to Somerset and express the hope that they enjoy their short stay.

A message from the Vice Presidents

This has been a traumatic season for our visitors, especially for their supporters.

Constant rumours about take-overs and the loss of the manager must be unsettling to say the least.

I am sure, however, that the players will put all that behind them when on the pitch and will, doubtless, be anxious to gain some revenge for their defeat at the County Ground earlier in the season.

I hope that all our members had an enjoyable Christmas Day and are able to take their seats today without having over indulged in the turkey and other festive fare.

Colin, our intrepid doorman, informs me that he intended to go for a run this morning as part of his training for the London Marathon, which should make the rest of us feel suitably guilty.

Do remember to make an offer of sponsorship if you have not already done so.

The Somerset and Dorset Air Ambulance, on whose behalf he is competing, is a most worthy cause.

I am writing these notes before the matches against Doncaster and Leyton Orient have taken place, but a glance at the current league table shows how quickly things can change in what is proving to be a very tight competition.

Your support, as always, is invaluable so get behind the lads today and cheer them on to another victory.

LOS ANGELES COMPETITION

THOMAS Cook and Yeovil Town Football Club have teamed up to give you the chance of winning a dream family holiday to Los Angeles.

To stand a chance of winning all you need to do is collect 15 tokens (one per match) that will be published in each home match programme for the remainder of the season.

These then need to be attached to the token collection sheet published in the Nottingham Forest programme or available in the club shop along with answers to the three questions and tie breaker printed on the back of the sheet.

Token One was already printed on the token collection sheet in the Nottingham Forest programme and Token Eight is on the right ready to be cut out and attached.
