Help Ellis' Daddy raise £100,000 to find a cure for Ellis

Richard Page is cycling 3,500 miles to all of Leicester City's Sky Bet Championship away games to raise money for his son, Ellis, who suffers from MECP2 Duplication Syndrome

The condition means that Ellis may never walk or talk, and suffers from chest infections and seizures, brought on by epilepsy.

Sky Bet, the title sponsor of the Football League, are backing Richard as he tries to raise £100,000 for the text "ellis" campaign.

With these funds, research can begin into finding a cure for Ellis, after an exciting breakthrough led to the reversal of MECP2 Duplication Syndrome in mice.

GOOD evening and welcome back to The County Ground for the visit of Wolverhampton Wanderers.

I have really been looking forward to putting together the programme for tonight's match against Wolves for a long time. Going through the old pictures and revisiting past encounters between the two clubs was wonderful. A club with such a rich history, tradition and supporter-base should, quite simply, not be in this division. I remember standing next to Mark Cooper on the touchline at Molineux earlier this season shortly after the team had arrived. He looked at me and simply said: "This is a Premier League club". I wholeheartedly agree. It was a breathtaking game of football to witness in September and I really hope we get a similar display this evening. Away from my personal declarations of awe, the opportunity for Swindon Town to test themselves against the best in the division is one that I think we all relish. Thank you to Andy Mutch who agreed to be our guest columnist this week. It was a pleasure speaking to Andy and hearing about his memories of playing for both clubs including THAT celebration against Newcastle. A good performance and the right result tonight would set Town up beautifully for the derby date on Saturday. Now there's another game that I'm sure we've all had circled in the diary for a while...

GOOD evening and welcome back to The County Ground for the visit of Wolves in this League 1 encounter...

WE were all very frustrated after Saturday's result. We were 1-0 up at half time and could have finished the game off. We've struggled to hold on to 1-0 leads recently and we should have got the second goal. We had the opportunities at the start of the second half and then we didn't defend a corner. We gave someone a free header and they were always going to score from six yards out. Then the game gets stretched and we get caught at the back as we're trying to win it.

It's important that we finish the season strongly. We need to look at the nucleus of players for next year, get them some game time and try and make sure our recruitment is right for the summer.

Wolves are the visitors tonight and sometimes these games are better to play in because there is no pressure on the players. Everyone expects Wolves to beat us and with that comes some added pressure for them so we have to try and take advantage of that. We know we can compete with most teams but we have to make sure we do it for longer spells of the game.

They'll probably play a 4-4-2 tonight. They will get after you and compete, they have got real quality in attacking options so we have to make sure we're aware of that and try and cause them some problems of our own. However, we have our own attacking threats as well. We like to concentrate on our own style of playing.

Keep Believing.

WELCOME back to The County Ground for tonight's meeting with Wolves...

I felt in the first half against MK Dons, 1-0 was deserved. To then come out in the second half, have two or three chances and quite a bit of the ball in their half and not go 2-0 up was quite disappointing. To then find ourselves camped in our half is not what you want at home and it shows there's quite a bit of work to be done. Yes, we've had some injuries and it hasn't been ideal at times but it shouldn't be a case of losing how we did. It's back to the drawing board and we've got to keep working at it. We've got to find the resilience and strength to get through games like this because the goals we're letting in are quite sloppy but to concede like that, in injury time, is never a nice way to come off the pitch. Wolves have done very well this season. It's no surprise because the manager has had a lot of experience at this level and a lot of success. There's no doubt they were going to do well with the budget and the players that they have at their expense. It's going to be a tough one but possibly the sort of game we need after Saturday's result. I'm looking forward to it as always. We've now got to roll our sleeves up and look to get a good result. They are a fantastic club and I feel really privileged to have played at a club like Wolves. I still know a few players up there like Richard Stearman, Danny Bath and Kevin Foley. They are really good guys, good players and good professionals and they deserve it because they've worked really hard. They will be a well-drilled, well-disciplined team. You can see from their goals conceded column that they will be a tough team to beat. So, credit where credit is due – it always is with me - but we're looking forward to it and we've got to finish the last eleven games in good style.

I would like to extend a warm welcome to Wolverhampton Wanderers, their Directors, their players and their supporters.

"Right now, the team need to stand up collectively and show what Swindon Town FC are all about."

TONIGHT'S visitors are a huge club, too big for this division some would say, and we will need to put in a towering performance to prove to all that we are still League 1 Play-Off contenders.

Right now, we are at a decisive point of the season. We have done just enough to be in with a chance of finishing in the top six. At this stage, we may still have the opportunity to play at Wembley. This is a massive result given where we were right back at the start of the season even with the recent string of performances that haven't been up to the usual standard.

However, right now, the team need to stand up collectively and show what Swindon Town FC are all about. Like Mark Cooper has said recently, we are due a dominant performance here at The County Ground and everyone at the Club is behind the team that will take to the pitch tonight.

A reminder that we are in the middle of our ten-day 'March Madness' - if you purchase a new or renewed Season Ticket for 2014/15 before the 17th March, you can buy it with 10% off the original price. This is a real incentive to try and get as many of you as possible to sign up for next season as we continue to progress both on and off the field.

What we need now from you all this evening, is to get behind the club, believe and remember this mantra: Good fans inspire players. Great fans cause results.

Iconic captain Billy Wright is chaired around Wembley by his teammates after Wolves' 3-1 victory over Leicester City in the FA Cup Final.

WOLVERHAMPTON WANDERERS

AFTER relegation from the second tier last term, Wolves will be hoping to bounce back at the first time of asking...

WITH new manager Kenny Jackett at the helm, Wolves made a blistering start to the 2013/14 campaign, winning five of their opening seven league fixtures, the last of which was the thrilling 3-2 win over Swindon at Molineux in mid-September. The only blot on the unbeaten start was an exit from the Capital One Cup at the first hurdle at the hands of League 2 side, Morecambe. Immediately after the victory over Town in the league, they were beaten at home by local Midlands rivals Walsall but would not lose again until the very end of November. That loss came against Peterborough United at London Road and was closely followed by a home defeat to MK Dons. Before that however, they had won seven matches and drawn five of their League 1 fixtures with their only defeat coming in the FA Cup against Oldham Athletic. Since defeat at Gillingham at the turn of the year, they have put together an astonishing run of form. At the time of writing, they have won their last seven games, scoring 18 goals and conceding just once and have seen off fellow promotion rivals Brentford and Preston North End in the process. In their clash with the former at Griffin Park, they put three goals past the Bees without reply. Ahead of tonight's match at SN1, Wolves were due to play Walsall on Saturday at the Banks's Stadium.

THE GAFFER: KENNY JACKETT:

A one-club man during his playing days, Jackett made over 300 league appearances for Watford and earned 31 caps for Wales before injury forced him to retire. He stayed at Vicarage Road as Assistant to Graham Taylor and helped steer the Hornets into the Premier League in 2000. His next destination was QPR, as assistant to Ian Holloway, before he was handed the reins at Swansea in 2004. Credited with starting the Swans' rise up to their current Premier League position, he guided them into League 1 and cup success in the Football League Trophy. After leaving the Liberty Stadium, he spent a brief time at Manchester City before taking the Manager's job at Millwall. Took the Lions into the Championship with victory over Town in the Play-Off Final at Wembley. After five-and-a-half years in the hot-seat Jackett resigned from his position at the New Den at the end of last season before taking the job at Molineux in May 2013.

THE PLAYERS

WOLVERHAMPTON W.

13

KEEPER

Carl Ikeme

IKEME featured regularly for the reserves at Molineux after coming through the youth ranks and served as understudy to Michael Oakes. During the 2003/04 and 2004/05 seasons, the shot-stopper was named on the bench for Wolves either side of a loan spell at Accrington. He has since been on loan at Stockport, Charlton, Sheffield United, QPR and Leicester before getting his chance with Wanderers. Has over 30 appearances to his name this term.

05

DEFENDER

Richard Stearman

WOLVERHAMPTON-born Stearman actually came through the ranks at Leicester City and went on to make 130 appearances for the Foxes in four years before switching to the West Midlands and Wolves. Having featured for England's Under-21s, the centre-half helped the Molineux outfit into the Premier League and featured regularly in the top flight. Following a loan spell at Ipswich last season, he has now racked up over 170 appearances for Wolves.

06

DEFENDER

Danny Batth

A graduate of the Academy at Molineux, the centre-half signed professional forms ahead of the 2008/09 season having been at the club since the age of 10. He made his competitive debut for Wolves against Southend in August 2010 after a brief loan spell at Colchester. Batth also spent time on loan with both Sheffield clubs before establishing himself as a regular at the heart of the Wolves defence.

11

KEY PLAYER

MIDFIELDER

Kevin McDonald

MCDONALD began his career with Dundee before joining Burnley in 2008. The creative midfielder featured regularly for the Clarets in the Premier League and went on to make over a century of appearances. He had temporary spells at Scunthorpe and Notts County before moving to Sheffield United at the expiration of his contract. He signed for Wolves in August 2013. Has also earned international honours with the Scotland Under-21s.

19

Jack Price

THE 20-year old is currently in his break through season at Molineux having graduated from the Youth Academy last season. Made his Wolves debut at the start of the campaign in a 4-0 win over Gillingham and has regularly featured so far this term. At the time of writing, Price has played every minute of Wolves' last six games in League 1, all of them ending in victories for the famous Old Gold.

27

Michael Jacobs

JACOBS started out at Northampton Town, breaking through from the youth ranks into the first team. He went on to make 100 appearances before departing for Derby County in the summer of 2012. Most of his outings in a Rams shirt came from the bench last term and he moved to Wolves on loan in November 2013. Made the move permanent in the January transfer window and, at the time of writing, has netted five goals in his last five games.

COYR looks at some of the players that could feature this evening...

Sam Ricketts

THE Wolves skipper arrived at Molineux in the summer of 2013 as one of Kenny Jackett's first signings. Jackett had previously worked with the defender at Swansea City. After starting his career at Oxford, he then swapped South Wales for the Humber estuary and helped Hull City into the Premier League in 2007. Two years later, he signed for Bolton Wanderers, racking up over 100 appearances. Has also been capped at international level by Wales.

Scott Golbourne

GOLBOURNE came through the youth ranks at Bristol City before being snapped up by Reading in January 2006. Much of his time at the Madejski Stadium was spent out on loan: he had two spells at Wycombe, as well as stints at Bournemouth and Oldham before departing for Exeter City in 2009. He made over a century of appearances for the Grecians in a three-year stay. He was at Bamsley prior to penning a deal with Wolves last summer.

James Henry

THE Reading-born winger turned his loan move from Millwall permanent in the recent January transfer window. Henry started his career with the Royals after graduating into the first team from the youth ranks. He has also enjoyed loan spells at Nottingham Forest, Bournemouth and Norwich City. After two further loans with Millwall, he made the move to the New Den permanent. He made over 100 appearances for the Lions before moving to Molineux.

Lee Evans

THE teenager started out with Newport County and made 22 appearances for the Welsh side in the first part of last season. In January 2013, he was snapped up by Wolves, then in the Championship, but did not make his debut for the Molineux outfit until the start of this season when he started the 0-0 draw at Preston. Netted his first goal against Gillingham in August and has one other strike to his name this term.

Liam McAlinden

McALINDEN began his career with Wolves, signing his first professional deal in 2010. He had to wait until the end of last season to make his debut as a substitute against Burnley. Netted his first goal against Walsall in the Johnstone's Paint Trophy earlier this term then signed a loan deal with Shrewsbury in October. He scored on his debut for the Shrews and found the net twice more before being recalled to Molineux. Has represented Northern Ireland at Under-21 level.

Nouha Dicko

AFTER starting out in his native France, Dicko got his first taste of English football with Wigan Athletic. Enjoyed two spells on loan at Blackpool before spending the last part of the 2012/13 season on loan at Molineux. This season, he netted six goals in six games during a month's stay at Rotherham United. In January he joined Wolves on a permanent deal and scored ten minutes into his second debut against Bristol City.

BAKARY SAKO

COYR takes a closer look at one of the Wolves dangermen that Town will have to keep quiet this evening...

THE Parisian-born attacking midfielder started his career with LB Châteauroux, breaking into the first team towards the end of the 2005/06 season. He penned his first professional deal and went on to net his first senior goal during the 2007/08 season against Brest. He established himself in the Châteauroux side, helping them to avoid relegation before moving to Saint-Etienne in the summer of 2009. His first appearance came against Paris Saint-Germain in April 2010 and he enjoyed five further outings without finding the net before that first season was over. He made his mark the following campaign, netting his first goal against Lorient before scoring in a 2-0 success at AS Monaco. He netted a further six times from 38 appearances in total. In 2011/12, he scored just four goals and in August 2012, he was brought to Molineux by Ståle Solbakken. He made an immediate impact, scoring on his Wolves debut against Northampton Town in the Capital One Cup. He repeated the feat on his league debut in Wolves' defeat at Cardiff City. The goalscoring continued for the winger - he netted memorable strikes against Blackburn Rovers and Sheffield Wednesday; just two of seven he registered before the end of the year. In total, he would score ten goals in all competitions as Wolves were relegated from the Championship. This term, he picked up where he left off, scoring three goals in the first five games of the campaign and going on to average a goal every two games by the middle of October. At the time of writing, he has netted nine goals in all competitions and scored the opening goal against Port Vale as Wolves ran out 3-0 winners. Although he was born in France, Sako qualifies to play for Mali at international level because both his parents were born there. He made his full debut for Mali last week and set up the equaliser in the 1-1 friendly draw against Senegal.

MAGIC MOMENTS:

1959

WOLVES mark a golden era for the club by retaining the First Division title. This remains the last time they have been champions of England. They scored over 100 league goals and participated in European competition for the first time.

1980

THE Old Gold win the League Cup for the second time in their history. Andy Gray scored the only goal of the game to secure a 1-0 win over Nottingham Forest at Wembley.

1988

ANDY Mutch and Robbie Dennison secure a 2-0 win and the Sherpa Vans Trophy for Wolves. The game was played in front of over 80,000 supporters at Wembley and came shortly after Wolves had clinched the Fourth Division championship.

2003

DAVE Jones leads Wolves back into the top flight after a nineteen-year absence, securing Premier League promotion thanks to a 3-0 win over Sheffield United in the Play-Off Final.

2009

UNDER the guidance of Mick McCarthy, the Molineux side clinch the Championship title and take their place amongst England's elite once again.

 Attendance 10,312

THIS clash from the early part of the 1989/90 season was, in fact, the first league meeting between the two sides. Tom Jones got things off to a perfect start for Swindon, netting after just four minutes. Duncan Shearer scored the second of the afternoon just short of the half-hour mark. Andy Thompson's penalty reduced the arrears with just over fifteen minutes to play but Alan McLoughlin's 90th minute strike sealed the points for Ossie Ardiles' men.

92 Clubs in 92 Hours

TOWN fan Marc Harris will shortly be undertaking a charity event to raise money and awareness for Helen and Douglas House. Starting at Leicester City on the 8th April and finishing at Plymouth Argyle on the 12th April, Marc and three other football fans are driving to all 92 football clubs in 92 hours. Helen & Douglas House care for children and young adults with life-shortening conditions. To sponsor Marc and his friends you can text DRIVE92 and your chosen amount to 70070 (for example DRIVE92 £5). You can also follow the challenge and news on the April auction on www.facebook.com/drive92in92 and @Drive92in92 on Twitter.

TYRELL BELFORD

AFTER learning his trade at one of the giants of English football, the young stopper says that he is prepared to make the most of his opportunity at SN1...

You come from a footballing family so was it your choice to go into football?

Yes it was. My dad was a goalkeeper and so are my two brothers. Strangely enough, I didn't want to be a goalkeeper when I was younger - I actually wanted to be a centre-back. When I was younger I loved playing outfield. I did originally start in goal but that was at a young age and I was in a team that was winning everything so I got a bit bored of it and wanted to play up-field to get a bit more of the ball. I played centre-back then moved on to central midfield and when I got to the age of 13 I started playing in goal again. It all started when I was playing in a tournament with one of my mates. He asked if I could go in goal for the penalties at the end. I saved four and scored the winner. Luckily Coventry City were watching me at that time.

So you got your foot on the football ladder at Coventry...

It was brilliant. My brother was there at the time too. He had started at Coventry when he was as young as eight or nine so I had him there to look up to. It was brilliant him giving me advice and my dad giving me advice too. It is a massive boost having your family around you like that especially with their experience in the game. My dad has played a lot and my brother, even though he is still only young, has made over 150 appearances in the Football League. I can only learn from his experiences.

How did your move to Liverpool come about?

Well, I had a chat with my old man and told him that I wasn't really enjoying it at Coventry. I didn't feel I was getting the development I should be and that I needed to go out and find a new club. So I did. I had interest from Man United and a few other big clubs to be honest. The Goalkeeping Coach at Stoke, Ronnie Sinclair, called my dad and asked whether I would be interested in going there. I thought 'yes, they're a Premier League club, go and have a look'. I was asked to play a few games there at the age of 15. I was playing in a game for Stoke, Liverpool came and watched me and it went from there. Funnily enough, the Liverpool scout was stood next to my dad and he said "I like the 'keeper" and my dad said "yes, that's my son". The scout then asked if I would like to come up to Liverpool for a week's trial. Of course my dad said yes. He took me up there and it was obviously a successful week.

Describe what it was like being at a club like Liverpool which is steeped in history and tradition?

It is a massive club and I was very grateful for the chance at that football club. It was a great learning curve for me in my football career. I picked up a lot of things that are vital. You pick up stuff from different coaches and you learn different things from everybody. It was massive for me – even going to train with the first team players was a bit overwhelming but it was a great experience for me.

Did you get involved regularly in the first team training?

Yes, I was up there quite a lot. More so when Rafa Benitez was there because I think he had a big part in signing me. I knew the Goalkeeper Coach John Achterberg up there and I learnt so much from him. He was fantastic and I cannot thank him enough for what he did for me. He was always trying to get me up there and get me involved with the first team boys. I learnt from them as obviously their experience of the game is massive. The first team lads were brilliant with me. Being a younger lad and going up to the first team where they have such a presence you wouldn't think they would bother but they were fantastic and welcoming. You walk in, they put their arm around you and say 'come on lad just get your head down work hard'. Brad Jones, the 'keeper, was brilliant too. He has spent a lot of time in the game and he put a lot of time and effort into me and gave me a lot of advice.

Even at your level, playing at Anfield in front of a crowd must have been a tremendous experience...

You wouldn't think there would be a lot of people at youth games but there were! There were times where we would, more or less, fill the Kop when we were playing in the Youth Cup. That's a big crowd on its own and the opposition brought a lot in the away end as well. You wouldn't think it would be such a big attraction but I think that when you're at such a big, high-profile club you attract fans world-wide.

Do you still keep in contact with the lads you used to play with?

I had a couple of close friends. The closest was probably Jamie Stephens who was here at Swindon. I interacted a lot with Jamie while I was up there - as the goalkeeper's union we stuck together! I stay in touch with him and a few of the other lads.

How did you hear about the interest from Swindon Town?

I was in Mexico at the time on holiday. It drew my eye really. I spoke to Jamie and he told me the background of the club and obviously he'd been here since a young age and had developed and gone to Liverpool. He told me a lot about the club and I was happy to come here. I already knew the manager (Mark Cooper) and that was a vital part in me coming here. I'm very lucky playing the games I have so far and hopefully I can take my chance now. I'm grateful for him giving me the opportunity.

Since you've been here, of course, you've been working as understudy to Wes Foderingham...

I have to be patient as I'm still pretty young. In goalkeeper terms, I'm still a baby because 'keepers don't break in until they're about 23 maybe 24 years old. I have been given an opportunity here by the Gaffer and I've got to grasp that now but it's brilliant working with Wes. He's had a lot of experience in the game himself and he's seen a lot and, for his age, he's played a lot of games and it's

"It was massive for me – even going to train with the first team players was a bit overwhelming but it was a great experience."

vital that I can learn from him in training every day. He's a great lad, a great character to have around and the same with Bedders, he's top man.

Fraser Digby has always said that he couldn't wish for a better group of goalkeepers to work with. That must be a fantastic compliment...

Definitely. As the three 'keepers we're all trying to knuckle down. We push each other on every day. That's something we strive to do and I think it's brilliant that we can get each other going. There are times when you've got to have a bit of banter but we're all outgoing, bubbly lads and I think we work really well with each other.

What do you remember of your debut for Swindon?

It was brilliant to be honest because I wasn't expecting to play. Obviously I was prepared but it was a bit overwhelming to go out there to be honest. I wasn't expecting such a big crowd but we attracted quite a few fans that day. It just shows that the fans are right behind us and it was a brilliant atmosphere to walk out into.

What about the penalty shoot-out win against Stevenage?

That was a big moment for me. Firstly, coming into the squad and keeping my shirt in the JPT - that was the most important thing for me that I just kept going. It was nice to get a couple of saves in the shoot-out and take us through to the next round.

Had you ever come across that sort of atmosphere and pressure before?

No, I think it's totally different to when you're playing at youth level. You've not got points at stake as such and you know they're not as important. Here, you've got fans that are paying to watch the games every week and, ultimately, it's about winning games, so you do feel the pressure because the fans are right behind you. They were brilliant on that day putting players off behind the goal.

What about your league debut at Leyton Orient?

That was fantastic as well. I was told after the game that I've made my league, JPT and FA Cup debut all in one year and that's overwhelming for me because I wasn't putting any pressure on myself to come here and play games. I was just going to come here, put my head down, work hard and see where it will take me. For me to do all of that in one season I'm really pleased. Obviously the result at Leyton Orient was disappointing and there wasn't a lot I could do with two penalties but it was a brilliant experience for me to get my league debut under my belt.

You've had a run of games recently where Wes has been injured. That must be a fantastic confidence boost for you...

Yes, of course. Wes was unfortunate to get an injury and I wish him a speedy recovery but it's now given me an opportunity to take my chance. Like I say, I'm thankful to the Gaffer for giving me this opportunity. It's so easy to go into the loan window for an emergency loan and panic but he's certainly given me a chance and I want to grasp it. I think the more game time I get, the better I'm going to get in terms of decision-making and everything else. Now it's important to build on what I've done.

"It's about winning games, so you do feel the pressure because the fans are right behind you."

17. WORLD CUP STUFF

WE continue our look back at what was acceptable in the 80s by this week taking a look back at the memorabilia, mascots and programmes that were produced for the 1982 and 1986 World Cups...

WHILST we have had lions and giant balls as World Cup mascots in recent years, the official mascot at the 1982 World Cup in Spain was 'Naranjito', an anthropomorphised orange, a typical fruit in Spain, which adorned the Spanish home kit.

From one type of food to another: the official mascot for the 1986 World Cup, held in Mexico, was a jalapeno pepper named Pique. Pique came complete with a moustache, a sombrero and was dressed in the colours of the Mexican National Team.

World Cup programmes are always packed full of features and glossy images and the programmes in the 1982 and 1986 World Cups were no different. The 1982 programme was an 80-page glossy read packed full of interesting interviews and features with the tournament's biggest players whilst the 1986 official programme boasted 86 pages.

The 1986 programme also featured a preview section, looking at the prospects of all of the competing countries as well as a comprehensive guide to every team and a detailed look at all of the fixtures.

In terms of memorabilia, you were able to purchase items such as a 6-coin set and stand as well as badges of all of the competing nations from the 1982 World Cup in Spain.

For the 1986 World Cup in Mexico, Panini took advantage of the media frenzy surrounding the tournament by bringing out an official Mexico '86 sticker book which fuelled football fans' love affair with stickers.

Newton

ACADEMY Manager Jeremy Newton describes what it has been like for Academy staff during the recent EPPP audit...

THE EPPP audit is now complete. It took two years of uploading a lot of data onto the online tool as well as working with all departments within the Academy. Within that you've got a number of different categories: education, sports medicine, sports science, physio, recruitment, coaching programmes, facilities, financial, vision and strategy as well as management at the top end of the club as well so it's been a big progress. We've just recently undergone the five-day audit where people at the club have been interviewed at length. That's now complete and hopefully that's gone really well. We won't get the findings until the end of the month when myself and the General Manager, Steve Anderson will be invited to Premier League Headquarters to receive the report that the auditors have put together. Part of the report process will be a document outlining what things have gone really well and an action plan detailing what we may need to improve on. The main thing is that we try and gain the percentage needed to gain our Category Three status. Hopefully we'll achieve that and then we'll have to work with the action plan to get to where we want to before the next audit in three years time. We've just got to keep working within the resources we've got. We think that we're doing a fantastic job here and everyone's promoting that. We've just got to keep producing players and try to get them into the First Team where they will be valuable assets. Look at the Thompson brothers: they're doing really well and they're a great advocate for us in the Academy. Especially Louis being so young; starting games and playing a lot of games, probably more so than I think he would have done at this moment in time but that's all down to him and his application and commitment. He obviously keeps listening and learning and keeps implementing what's being said at First Team level. Category Three status is just so important to us. We can't go down the route of Category Four because that would involve just running an Under-18s side so everything below that will have a knock-on effect. Like I say, a lot of work has gone in over the last two years. Yes, it's been stressful at times and yes, we think what we've undertaken is a hell of a lot of work but hopefully, the auditors have seen what we do. A lot of 'how we do it' and 'why we do it' is already in place, it's just a case of showing them that. They've got to be happy with how we do it. This is a Premier League incentive, we've just got to make sure that we keep working with it.

RETRO RED

DAVE Wallis profiles Town's flying winger from the 1970s who drew comparisons with the great George Best...

THERE have been many Manchester United youths who have suffered the label 'the next George Best' and one Town player had the poisoned chalice bestowed upon him for perhaps obvious reasons.

Born in Belfast, just like Best, in March 1953, Trevor Anderson had the dark good looks and Irish upbringing that helped draw the comparisons with the mercurial but flawed Best.

That he played as a winger when he signed for the Red Devils in the autumn of 1972 was hardly likely to be overlooked either.

It's worth remembering (and for some, satisfying to recall) that United were not the force that they are known to be today.

Brace yourselves kids, but playing their football in what was then called Division Two, Manchester United had dropped out of the top division with a 21st place finish in the spring of 1974.

To make that clear, that's the Championship... not the Champions League.

By then Anderson had made almost 20 appearances for United's first team and scored a couple of goals, but in November 1974 the lure of The County Ground proved too much for the Irishman to resist.

£25,000 changed hands.

Making his Town debut on Guy Fawkes' night he scored the only goal of the game against Chesterfield to open his account and he was to become a silky part of a skilful forward line that was looking to grab the goals to take Town back into Division Two.

Playing alongside Peter Eastoe and David Moss, goals flowed as we registered a fourth-placed finish, just failing to complete an immediate return after relegation the previous year.

Top scorer in 1975/76 with fifteen goals and voted Player of the Year, Trevor was ever-present and, all told, went on to make 160 appearances for Town, scoring almost 50 goals.

His 79th minute goal at Goodison Park looked likely to secure us a win over Everton in the FA Cup in 1977, only for two even later strikes to take the Toffees, who included future Town boss Andy King, through.

Moving on to Peterborough in December 1977, Trevor returned to Ireland where he led Newry Town to promotion as Director of Football, then managed Linfield to two league championships and a brace of Irish Cup victories.

Promotion followed again with Ards in 2001 before one more move made Anderson manager of Dundalk.

A Northern Ireland international with 22 appearances for his country, over half of them were made during his Town days.

Trevor will always be remembered as the man who scored a hat-trick of penalties for Town when, in April 1976, a 5-1 home win over Walsall featured four spot-kicks, with one awarded to and converted by the Saddlers.

Referee Lester Shapter, a regular footnote in many Town stories of the era made those decisions.

TONIGHT we welcome Wolves to The County Ground in a League 1 encounter...

TONIGHT it is a pleasure to see Wolverhampton Wanderers here at The County Ground. When I was a youngster, Wolves were certainly one of the top teams in the country having been league champions three times and FA Cup winners twice between 1949 and 1960.

They were pioneers of European matches having hosted both the great Honved side from Hungary and Russia's Moscow Dynamo as well as the first live match shown on television. Gates of 40,000 plus were commonplace in this era too.

Two members of the 1963 promotion-winning Swindon team, who were introduced to league football by Bert Head then moved to Wolves were Bobby Woodruff and Ernie Hunt. A few years on from that, Peter Eastoe was a great goalscorer here in the 1970s and was a favorite at Swindon having moved the other way.

Wolves have also moved up and down the divisions over the years spending two seasons in the Fourth Division before rising back to the top again. However, two poor seasons recently have seen them drop into League 1 but it certainly looks like it will be a short stay.

Half-Time Draw

UNFORTUNATELY, due to programme print deadlines, the 50/50 draw result from Saturday's match against MK Dons will be in the next programme.

Rockin' a cool hat!

THANKS again to Laura Sharp who took up our challenge to create this great Rockin' hat!

Happy Birthday Stuart!

STUART Pearce joins us to celebrate in the Sponsor's Suite tonight. Have a great evening!

Happy Birthday Sean!

Presentation Night

ALL our members should have received a newsletter with details of the presentation night, your voting slips and a book of draw tickets. Last year was an excellent night and we hope this year will be as good.

We can only hope that the club will continue to progress within its financial limits as we have had so many changes in recent times. We certainly need stability. I picked up the pre-season programme from the game against Reading on 30/7/11. Of the 29 players for Swindon just one remains - Nathan Thompson!

FOOTBALL IN THE COMMUNITY

COMMUNITY NEWS

GOOD evening and welcome to tonight's encounter with Wolves...

Extra Time Programme

THIS evening, we are delighted to showcase our Extra Time Programme which is an initiative for over-60s to engage in social and sporting activities. This evening, we have our male participants playing a match on the pitch with half the participants playing for Swindon Town and the other half donning the kit of the famous Wolverhampton Wanderers. This game comes off the back of the successful fixture at home to Bristol City, where we played their Extra Time guys at half-time back in September. This fixture is going to be reciprocated on the 15th March when our guys will be travelling to Bristol City to watch Swindon Town take on their fellow Robins at Ashton Gate. The group will hopefully witness Swindon picking up all three points and hopefully a victory at half time against the Bristol City contingent. On the 18th March, the men and women's' group will be visiting Wookey Hole in Somerset which is a trip that has been organised by Beth Thompson who leads on the programme. Beth said: "It has been another really successful programme since September when the guys returned after a summer break. We have continued to deliver quality activities such as snooker, swimming, tennis and country walks to name but a few. The men are really looking forward to their forthcoming fixtures and are delighted to be able to be given the opportunity to play on professional pitches such as The County Ground and Ashton Gate."

Saturday Team Club

IF any of you are part of local groups or run junior football teams, just a quick reminder that we still have a few spaces left for our ever-popular Saturday Team Club Programme. The project consists of the teams arriving at 10am before being given a comprehensive look behind the scenes at STFC. They then go over to St. Joseph's Catholic College where they're put through their paces in a structured coaching session then finish off in a game format. At 1pm, everyone is treated to a hearty lunch provided by

Dave Turner Memorial Fund

ON behalf of the family of Dave Turner, we would like to thank everybody who attended Dave's memorable funeral which was held at Wroughton Church on Monday 24th February. It was a very fitting tribute to not only a great man but a fantastic football person who impacted on so many people's lives within FITC and later in his role as a local football manager with his former clubs Pewsey Vale, Wootton Bassett Town and Shrivenham. For those of you who attended the funeral, you will all be aware that Dave's wish was to one day work with young disabled footballers in the future. A memorial fund has been set up on behalf of Dave with all the proceeds going to the FITC social inclusion disability programme. Donations can be made by visiting the FITC website where a special donation page has been set up in the memory of the great Dave Turner. All contributions will be gratefully received and will enable us to continue to deliver and enhance opportunities for young disabled players in Swindon and the surrounding areas.

ANDY MUTCH

THE former Swindon and Wolves frontman is this week's 'Outside the Box' guest columnist...

I'VE got some super memories of my time at Wolves. Obviously I played the best part of my career there and we were reasonably successful too. The club wasn't in a good state when I first went in but I formed a great partnership with Steve Bull up front. The culmination of that was winning two league championships and a trip to Wembley with over 80,000 there. I managed to score then and obviously in that period I made my name in football so to speak. I even had a game for the England Under-21s and a few B team caps too. I met some great people then; it was good times.

Then moving to Swindon, it was exciting to play in the Premiership. Swindon had just been promoted and John Gorman was the manager. He was a really nice fellow and there were a lot of good players there too: John Moncur, Paul Bodin, Martin Ling and Jan Fjortoft when he got his form - he struggled at first. We were a very good footballing side though and we put up a fight against everyone but found it difficult defensively playing against some of the bigger teams. Whatever football ability we showed that season, we had some poor results. But, like I say, it was exciting and, when we won our first game against QPR that was a great day. It hangs heavy when you're not winning games and it was a great moment. Everyone was sad we couldn't stay up but looking at the size of the club and where we were, it was always going to be difficult. The goal and celebration against Newcastle was a show of relief really. You're always looking to stamp your mark and results were tough. Individually, I was brought in to score goals and I did in that game against Newcastle. I played my first game against Liverpool which was great but we got a bit of a trouncing. I ended up scoring a few goals that season and I got on well with the supporters. I love the club, there were nice people there and that goal against Newcastle was one to savour.

I'm always watching what both teams are doing these days. They have both been up and down for different reasons recently. Mark Cooper is doing a very good job and Kenny Jackett is doing a fantastic job too. I do believe Wolves will win the league and hopefully Kenny can stabilise them. They went into freefall a bit from the Mick McCarthy era but it's great to see them doing well again. I got inducted into the Hall of Fame at Wolves which I was really proud of too. Swindon are doing a bit of rebuilding at the moment and Mark is doing really well. I remember when I was assistant at Telford in the late 1990s, we actually took Mark on loan so I've come across him before. He's a great fellow.

"We were a very good footballing side though and we put up a fight against everyone..."

COACHES' CORNER

Fraser
Digby

THE former Town stopper and current Goalkeeping Coach is back in Coches' Corner this week...

I'M delighted with the way that Ty has settled in. Ever since the lad came down from Liverpool he's been the ultimate professional. He's worked hard, he's trained hard, he's been there supporting Wes. Obviously Wes has always had the number one jersey and, unfortunately, Wes has been injured recently so Ty's come in and he's done a really good job. He's taken on board everything that we've asked of him and he's had some good solid performances. In fact, I couldn't ask for three better lads really. They're all different in their own mindset. I think probably Ty's more like myself in terms of attitude and the way that he does things but all three of them are brilliant to work with. Leigh Bedwell has come back from an awful illness and he's been working tremendously hard. We need to boost him up a bit but he's back and his sharpness is back. After seeing the pancake challenge last week, it's obvious that I'm going to need to teach the lot of them how to cook! Wes was probably the better one of the three of them but we'll have to work on that too. It was a fantastic game of football at Wolves earlier this season. We played probably one of the best performances I've seen from Swindon Town for many years but, at the end of the day, you've got to score the goals and we never did. Their

"Ever since the lad came down from Liverpool he's been the ultimate professional."

'keeper made some good saves and they had the likes of Leigh Griffiths and Kevin Doyle; you give them half a chance and they score and that's why they've been at the top of the game. Fortunately, neither of them are playing tonight so that is an advantage. That said, I expect the same from Wolves tonight. I knew Kenny Jackett from when we were both at QPR and he was Assistant Manager. You know what you're going to get from them: they're a very good team and they're going to cause us a lot of problems so the lads have got to be 100% on their game. These are the people that you want to play against. I enjoyed playing against the likes of Steve Bull because you knew what you were going to get - he never gave you a quarter. Anything that came into the box that you'd have to deal with, Bull would just come straight in and deal with it himself. You really enjoy those confrontations - they're great.

Fitzroy SIMPSON:

The midfielder started his career with the Town, making over 100 appearances before joining Manchester City in March 1992.

MANCHESTER CITY 2 TOWN 1

Premier League • Friday 25th February, 1994

TOWN would leave Maine Road after this encounter cursing their luck after a controversial refereeing decision...

THE match was just eight minutes old when future Swindon boss Steve McMahon was dispossessed in midfield by John Moncur. Andy Mutch was then sent racing forwards at the City backline. He played in Jan Åge Fjørtoft on the left-hand edge of the box. The striker shaped to shoot and both the advancing 'keeper and defender bought the dummy. He pushed the ball past them before clipping it left-footed into the far corner to give Swindon the lead. Next, Nicky Summerbee's cross from the right found Fjørtoft in the box. He leapt above City's Michel Vonk and planted a header into the back of the net. Before the 'aeroplane' could spread its wings once more, the Norwegian was waving his arm in disbelief as the referee chalked the goal off for a foul. Just short of the half-hour, Richard Edgehill's drilled cross ricocheted into the net off the unfortunate Kevin Horlock to bring City level. Six minutes into the second half, David Rocastle took control of the ball just inside the box and weaved his way towards goal before slotting beyond Fraser Digby into the corner to seal the win.

Fraser DIGBY:

The Town stopper was making his first appearance between the sticks since coming off injured at Sheffield Wednesday at the end of December.

LAST WORD

BBC WILTSHIRE

IF you wait around long enough it seems, almost any bit of history will repeat itself.

AFTER Swindon became the first team to follow dropping out of the Premier League with another relegation, Wolves were the second to do so last May.

With the sudden financial imbalance that follows relegation from the top division there are plenty of sides with a lot of history and tradition who have suddenly been met with the unusual business of third tier matches and trips to Dagenham & Redbridge, Yeovil and other venues that have not previously been in their stratosphere.

The Premier League is now a global stage.

And immediately, they have to overcome the dubious pleasure of being a constant target for the league's traditionally smaller sides. Hereford United, for example, caused Leeds plenty of problems in their meetings, notably a 2009 victory at Edgar Street. It's a distant pleasure for them as they now hold station below Alfreton and Salisbury in the League pyramid.

Some of the famous names have handled it better than others, and if there's one word that seems to define how the "big boys" in this division deal with the whole issue, it's humility.

Once they accept where they are in the pyramid, they then seem to welcome the chance to bounce back at the quickest speed. Norwich found a man who knew the lower divisions well with Wycombe and Colchester in Paul Lambert. Leeds eventually turned to Simon Grayson, a promotion winner from League One with Blackpool, to get them back up and Colin Calderwood finally did the job for Nottingham Forest after a lot of angst.

So it caught the eye that when Wolves were looking for a new manager after deciding Dean Saunders was no longer the right man, they quickly honed in on Kenny Jackett.

He's a proven manager at this level, as Swindon know to their cost on many occasions – not least in the Austin bobble 2010 Play-Off Final and he seems to mix good football with defensive efficiency. It was the appointment of a board who quickly realised the new reality, and were determined to face it, rather than one who assumed a large stadium and a pretty honours board meant an entitlement to win.

For Wolves, so far so good, although if Swindon can play as well as they did at Molineux there might be a little bit of uncertainty between now and May.
